Blairquhan Castle

a romantic setting for your very own fairy tale

Listed 14th best place in the world to get married by the Independent newspaper, Blairquhan Castle is Scotland's jewel. Set in over 200 acres of private parkland in beautiful Ayrshire countryside, this remarkable piece of Regency architecture is far more than just a wedding venue - it has history, it has character, but most of all, it has charm.

You couldn't wish for a more romantic setting for your wedding day than at Blairquhan Castle. Couple this with the phenomenal food and service provided by Blairquhan team, you have the perfect recipe for the perfect day.

Having your wedding at Blairquhan means that the use of castle is exclusive to you and your wedding guests for the entire duration of your wedding.

Your ceremony can either take place inside the castle or within the grounds as you wish. The spectacular saloon of the castle is a popular choice for the ceremony as it can comfortably seat up to 90 guests, including seating on the impressive balcony upstairs.

If your number is larger, marquees can be arranged to be set up on the lawn in front of the castle for up to 250 guests.

There are four stunning function suites in Blairquhan castle which will ensure your big day flows smoothly.

All our suites are so unique, they retain original period features such as open fireplaces, ornate corniced ceilings and bay windows.

Combining the large and small drawing rooms together it can comfortably seat up to 100 guests for your wedding meal. The beautiful dining room is the perfect setting for the traditional cutting of the wedding cake, and also for the evening buffet and the arrival drinks earlier in the day. In addition, the intimate library is ideal for your guests to retreat to in the evening.

Our bespoke menus are tailored to each individual needs, and all dietary requirements can be catered for. The exquisite wedding meal is prepared carefully by our head chef using only the finest local, seasonal produce.

Coupled with first class service provided by our long-serving staff, you and your guests are guaranteed to have a truly memorable gastronomical experience.

When it comes to overnight accommodation at Blairquhan you have an abundance of choices.

The castle itself boasts 15 individually designed luxurious bedrooms, with five grand rooms featuring original four-poster or two-poster beds, and ten beautiful deluxe bedrooms. All bedrooms have been designed in a sumptuous, yet elegant fashion which will make you and your guests feel indulged from the moment you arrive.

Every castle bedroom has imposing sash windows that open up to stunning views of the surrounding grounds and the Ayrshire countryside beyond.

Beautifully spacious, the interior is equally impressive, with period furniture sitting side-by-side with modern luxurious bathrooms that have been installed with great attention to detail. Thick, fluffy towels are waiting to swaddle you after you have pampered yourself with the L'Occitane toiletries that are complimentary in every bathroom.

There are also eight self-catering cottages situated on Blairquhan estate providing accommodation for a further 46 guests.

All cottages come complete with luxurious towels and bed linen, and both heating and electricity usage is included in the price. In the morning after the wedding guests can choose to either have hearty breakfast packs arranged in the cottage, or alternatively, join the castle guests for a fully cooked Scottish breakfast served in one of our stunning function suites.
